7 definitions memory card

Read the definition. Say the trick. Do the move. Then cover it and say it again.

Motion

Change in position

Motion means you Change Places → Change in Position

Do it: move your hand from one spot to another.

⚾ Your pitch goes from your hand to the catcher's mitt. Its position changes.

Acceleration

The rate of change in velocity/speed

Race Car Velocity → Rate of Change in Velocity/speed

Do it: press an imaginary gas pedal.

⚾ Your arm takes the ball from 0 to 50 mph. Its speed changes.

Reference Point

The location of the observer of motion

LOOM → Location Of the Observer of Motion

Do it: point to your own eyes.

⚾ The catcher sees the pitch coming straight at him. A fan in the stands sees it go left to right.

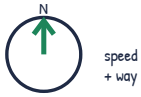

Velocity

Describing a moving object using speed and direction

Dogs Make Our Shoes Dirty → Describing a Moving Object using Speed and Direction

Do it: point a direction while you say a speed.

⚾ 50 mph is the speed. Toward home plate is the direction. Together: velocity.

Constant Speed

A speed that does not vary or change

Cruise control: Never Varies, Never Changes → does not vary or change

Do it: glide a flat hand straight across.

⚾ A runner jogging to first at the same pace the whole way.

Negative Acceleration

When an object's speed decreases

Negative is a downer → speed Decreases (D for Down)

Do it: thumbs down.

⚾ The catcher's mitt stops the ball. Its speed decreases to 0.

Positive Acceleration

When an object's speed increases

Positive is a plus → speed Increases (more and more)

Do it: thumbs up.

⚾ Your arm whips the ball forward. Its speed increases.

- Acceleration words: Acceleration, Positive, Negative
- Positive and negative use the same sentence. Only one word changes: increases or decreases.

Tonight and tomorrow

- Before bed: say all 7 out loud with the moves, then write them once.
- Stuck on the test? Picture the pitch: hand, arm, radar gun, mitt.
- In the morning: cover the definitions and say them from the term.
- At the test: as soon as you get it, write all 7 tricks in the margin first, if your teacher allows it.
